Don Reno

I am a lifelong public servant with more than 20 years of experience as a first responder for Miami-Dade County. My career has been built on accountability, teamwork, and making sound decisions in high-pressure situations where the well-being of others comes first. Those same principles guide how I approach community leadership: listen first, act responsibly, and always put people before politics.

I am a graduate of Miami Dade College, holding dual Associate degrees in Emergency Medical Services and an Associate of Science degree in Nursing. My professional and educational background has given me a strong understanding of risk management, compliance, ethical responsibility, and long-term planning—skills that translate directly into effective, transparent community governance.

I have lived in townhomes of the Corsica community for the past two years and have been actively engaged during that time. I strongly believe that this is your community. Leadership should work for the residents—not the other way around. Every homeowner, regardless of the property type deserves to be heard, informed, and represented fairly. My commitment is to ensure that each resident has a voice, concerns are addressed openly, and decisions are made with the community's best interests at the forefront.

In addition to my professional background, I have spent many years mentoring and coaching youth, helping children ages 8 to 18 stay engaged in positive activities and off the streets. Since 2004, I have served as a mentor with SLAM (Saving Lives Athletic Ministry), supporting young people through athletics, discipline, teamwork, and guidance. Giving back and investing in people—especially early—has always been central to who I am.

Community choices impact families, property values, and quality of life, and they should always be made with care, transparency, and accountability. I am running to serve the Corsica community with integrity, professionalism, and respect for every resident. This is your community.

My role is to work for you, listen to you, and help build a safe, well-managed neighborhood where everyone has a voice and a stake in our shared future.
